

LETTER TO PATIENTS AND THEIR FAMILIES FROM PRECISION BIOSCIENCES CEO MATT KANE

Amidst an unprecedented time in our history we thank our healthcare workers for their heroism and unwavering care and support of those impacted by COVID-19. At Precision, we recognize the urgency to address this global health emergency and are united together to slow the spread of the virus and help protect those who are the most vulnerable and at greatest risk for severe disease infection.

This virus has forced many fast and unusual changes upon us, and we understand the potential fears and challenges this may place on patients, especially those for whom there is the potential for significant benefit to addressing a serious and life-threatening condition.

On the advice of the physicians who are on the front lines, we are doing all we can to safely progress our clinical studies as planned. It is our goal to work through this together with the clinical trial sites and, most importantly, you and your loved ones. The health and safety of all those involved is our top priority.

We are continuously monitoring and assessing the situation as it evolves ensuring the health and well-being of all involved. These are extraordinary circumstances, but we are confident we can safely move through this together.

Take care,
